Story Shows Originality
The story is so different from the run of Western pictures that we shall speak of that first. It opens in the South Sea Isles, which is in itself a novelty and very restful to the eye with the Rockies or a desert waste with a Pinto pony coming out of the horizon carrying his tired master.

Carey is Steve Packard, a derolict, which has followed him all over the world, saying that his father has died and left him a ranch in Wyeming. To this ranch he goes, carrying with him a half-breed adopted daughter. A lot of things happen to Steve on this ranch he goes, carrying with him a half-breed adopted daughter. A lot of things happen to Steve on this ranch he goes, carrying with him a half-breed adopted daughter. A lot of things that have happened to heroes on ranches in the past.

There is also a girl, but the is not in the least like the girls one usually finds out in the open spaces where men are men. And Steve doesn't say: "I could go straight if I had a pure woman's love," and there is no title which says that she is a pure girl citler. But she goes swimming in a one-piece bathing suit and rides and shoots and helps corral the steers when there is a utampede, and is altogether a very fine sext of person. Lellian Rick, who plays this part, also seems to have insignation.

Stampede Thrilling Thing

"I don't believe it ever was passed. I may be the beneficiary of a clerical error. Anyhow, it's one of the bays be the beneficiary of a clerical error. Anyhow, it's one of the best things that could happen for New York."

It was suggested by Alderman McGuinness finally, after some consideration, "It may have reached the Mayor without having been do the best things beat could happen for New York."

It was suggested by Alderman McGuinness also that perhaps the ordinance distract and the result of the best things that have called the mount of the best things that have suggested by Alderman McGuinness also that perhaps the ordinance distract and the result of the perhaps the ordinance distract and the

The Whirl of New York' was offered at this week's headline attraction in Shubert vandeville at the Winter Garden yesterday. It proved one of the best units arranged by the Shuborts for their special brand of vandewille. This piece was produced at the Winter Garden last season, but numerous changes have converted it virtuality into a new show.

Nost of the original cast appear in the Shaw comedy. The Players Assembly will preduce a mystery includement as a matince companion to "Montmartre" at the Belmon Theater.

Louise Groody and Oscar Shaw will introduce a new waitz number in "Good Morning, Destrict at the Globa Theater tomorrow afternoon in celebration of the 18th New York performance.

Women Barred From Smoking In Hotels, Cafes

Stampede Thrilling Thing
This stampede is a stunning thing and we never saw so many cows to gether before in our life, and had no idea that they could move so fast. And then when you think that it is all over because the hero has taken the heroine in his arms and said "love you" you find that the thrills have just begun. There is a fight in the mountains when the hero and the villain stand man to man, which again is different from anything we have seen.
